PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS His Majesty was graciously pleased, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Twenty-sixth Day of December, 1792, to promise and declare, that the Bounties of Five Pounds for every Able Seaman, and Two Pounds Ten Shillings for every Ordinary Seaman, fit for His Majesty's Service, should be paid in the Manner thereby directed to every such Able and Ordinary Seaman, not above the Age of Fifty nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should, on or before the Twenty-eighth Day of February then following, enter themselves to serve in His Majesty's Royal Navy, either with the Captains or Lieutenants of His Majesty's Ships or Vessels, or Officers employed on Shore for raising Men for the Service of the Royal Navy: And whereas His Majesty was also graciously pleased, by His said Proclamation, to declare, that all Able-bodied Landmen, not above the Age of Thirty-five nor under the Age of Twenty Years, who should so enter themselves as aforesaid, should receive the Sum of Thirty Shillings each Man, as His Majesty's Royal Bounty: And whereas His Majesty was also graciously pleased, by His Royal Proclamation bearing Date the Sixteenth Day of the said Month of February, 1793, to promise and declare, that a Reward of Twenty Shillings for every Able and Ordinary Seaman, fit to serve on board His Majesty's Ships, should be paid to any Person who should discover any Seaman or Seamen who might conceal him or themselves, so that such Seaman or Seamen should be taken for His Majesty's Service, on or before the Thirtieth Day of April then next, by any of His Majesty's Sea Officers appointed to raise Men on Shore, or by the Captains and Commanders of any of His Majesty's Ships or Vessels in the Ports or on the Coasts of this Kingdom: And whereas the Time limited by the said Proclamations for Payment of the said Bounties and Reward, hath been prolonged and extended to the Thirty-first Day of this instant October; and it being judged expedient for His Majesty's Service that the said Bounties and Reward should be continued to be paid for some Time longer; His Majesty, with the Advice of His Privy Council, doth therefore order, and it is hereby accordingly ordered, that the Time limited for Payment of the said Bounties and Reward be prolonged and extended, from the said Thirty-first Day of this instant October, to the Thirty-first Day of December next, inclusive: Whereof all Persons concerned are to take Notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

Admiralty-Office, October 27.

Copy of a Letter from Sir Edward Pellew, Captain of His Majesty's Ship the Arethusa, to Mr. Stephens, dated off the Start, the 24th Instant.

SIR,

I Beg you will be pleased to inform their Lordships, that I sailed, with the Ships under my Command, as per Margin †, agreeable to their Orders, on Sunday Morning the 19th, from Cawsand Bay; and the Wind having given me the Opportunity, on the following Evening I shaped a Course for Ushant, with the Hope of falling in with any Ships which might leave the Port of Brest on the Commencement of the Easterly Wind; the Success of this Intention affords me the Pleasure of begging you to acquaint my Lords Commissioners, that, at Day-Break in the Morning of the 21st, Ushant bearing East about Eight or Ten Leagues, we had the good Fortune to fall in with the French National Frigate La Revolutionnaire, to which the Whole of the Squadron gave Chace. The Advantage of being to Windward permitted our cutting her off from the Land; and the superior sailing of the Artois afforded to Captain Nagle the happy Opportunity of distinguishing himself by a well-conducted Action of Forty Minutes, when La Revolutionnaire struck her Colours to His Majesty's Ship Artois, which she was induced to do by the near Approach of the rest of the Squadron; and perceiving the Diamond in the Act of taking a Position under her Stern to take her, the Ship's Company refused to defend her any longer. She had scarcely surrendered when the Breakers of the Saints were discovered ahead, although very hazy Weather.

The distressed and crippled State of the Enemy allows me the Opportunity of saying, that her Resistance could have been of no Avail, had the Artois been alone; and if an Officer of nearly the same Standing may be permitted, without Presumption, to offer his Sentiments on the Conduct of another, I should not confine myself in my Expressions of Approbation on the Behaviour of Captain Nagle; and I have much Pleasure in adding, that he speaks in the highest Terms of the Gallantry and good Conduct of his Officers and Ship's Company, lamenting, as we all do, the Loss of a very gallant and worthy Officer, in Lieutenant Craigy of the Marines, who, with Two Men killed, and Five wounded, are the Sufferers on this Occasion.

La Revolutionnaire is a remarkable fine new Frigate, most completely fitted, and of large Dimensions, being 159 Feet long and 41 Feet 7 Inches wide, built at Havre de Grace, and never before at Sea. She sailed Eight Days since on her Way to Brest, and was commanded by Citizen Thevenard, mounting 44 Guns *, 28 on her Main Deck and 16 on her Quarter Deck and Forecastle, and manned with 370 Men, 3 of whom were killed and 5 wounded; among the latter is her Captain, slightly.

Lieutenant Pellew, who will have the Honor to deliver this Letter to their Lordships, will be able to give any farther Information required; and will inform their Lordships of my Intention of going to Falmouth to land the Prisoners, who have the Small-Pox among them. I have the Honor to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

ED. PELLEW.
